

Unloading Knee Orthosis

The unloading knee orthosis is a metal or carbon fiber frame with knee joints. It is recommended for unicompartmental osteoarthritis of the knee. The orthosis places side to side forces at the knee and leg to straighten the knee and reduce loading on the arthritic side of the knee.

Indications:

- Medial or lateral unicompartmental osteoarthritis or any other unicompartmental condition requiring unloading.

Photo courtesy of Cascade