

Tenodesis Splint

The tenodesis splint is a functional aid for the quadriplegic patient who has use of the extensor carpi radialis (has wrist extension). This device gives the patient the potential to grasp or hold objects through reciprocal wrist extension and finger flexion.

Indications:

- Patient is able to use their extensor carpi radialis longus (C6-7 quadriplegic).

Photo courtesy of Prosthetic Laboratories

Modern Technology. Traditional Values. Proven Techniques.