

Friction Wrist

The friction wrist is the most basic wrist design. With this style, the amputee manually pronates (turns the palm down) and supinates (turns the palm up) the hand into position.

Photos courtesy of Fillauer Companies