

Passive Hand

A passive hand is used for opposition and cosmesis (looks). The hand does not open or close, but the amputee can use it to stabilize an object, or to hold objects next to his or her body.

Photo courtesy of Fillauer Companies