

Quick Disconnect Wrist

The quick disconnect wrist is designed to be used by amputees who frequently change their terminal devices (hand or hook). This unit allows the amputee to remove or change the terminal device, manually position the terminal device in varying degrees of rotation, and lock the terminal device in position.

Photo courtesy of Fillauer Companies

Modern Technology. Traditional Values. Proven Techniques.