

Silicone Insert Suspension

The silicone insert is used for comfort, skin protection, and/or suspension of the prosthesis on the patient's limb. The insert is worn inside the socket of the prosthesis next to the patient's skin. When this suspension is used, a suspension locking mechanism is necessary to attach the prosthesis to the patient's limb.

Photo courtesy of Ossur

Modern Technology. Traditional Values. Proven Techniques.