

Silicone Insert

Silicone inserts are used for comfort, skin protection, and/or suspension of the prosthesis on the patient's limb. These are worn inside the socket of the prosthesis next to the patient's skin. When silicone inserts are used for suspension, a suspension locking mechanism is necessary to attach the patient's limb to the prosthesis.

Photo courtesy of Ossur

Modern Technology. Traditional Values. Proven Techniques.